THE various Records, whose contents are indexed in the list now printed, may be divided into three divisions—Genealogies, Birthbriefs and Funeral Escutcheons. The first consists of the Official Register of all Genealogies and Birthbriefs in Scotland, which commences on 3rd December 1727. Volume I. ends on 15th January 1796 and Volume III. begins 16th August 1827 and is continued to date. Volume II. is not now in existence, if indeed it ever existed at all. It is not mentioned in an inventory of the Lyon Office Records in 1819, but several pedigrees, which were intended to be recorded in it, are still preserved in draft in what is called the “Arboretum” or “collection of trees.” The names of those as well as others, not now in the Lyon Office though the fees for recording them are entered in the cash book, have been added to the list. These volumes are referred to as G. I., II. and III. The Birthbriefs and Funeral Escutcheons give the names and in many instances the arms of the parents, grandparents, great-grandparents and great-great-grandparents, of the person in whose favour they were granted or of the deceased, whose hatchment was, by warrant of the Lord Lyon, painted and placed over the door of his mansion or burial place. These records, which are intermixed, are contained in fourteen volumes and are referred to as follows, the references being the numbers of the manuscript in the Lyon Office Catalogue:—

8. Large folio containing 43 Birthbriefs and Funeral Escutcheons at beginning and 4 at end, 1697-1754.
9. Large folio containing 237 Funeral Escutcheons collected by Roderick Chalmers, Ross Herald (1724-1746), and another commencing 2nd August 1724 and ending 1766 contain the seize quartiers of the deceased, but no pedigree.
10. Small folio, formerly in four books, containing 326 Birthbriefs and Funeral Escutcheons.
11. Small folio containing 296 Birthbriefs and Funeral Escutcheons.
12. Small folio containing 82 Funeral Escutcheons, 1720-1732, copied from No. 9 and not indexed separately.
13. Small folio containing 130 Funeral Escutcheons, 1697-1718.
14. Small folio containing (first) 90 Birthbriefs, mostly foreign; and (second) 40 Birthbriefs, a number of pen and ink sketches of armorial bearings, and ending with the Funeral Escutcheon of David, Earl of Leven and Melville 1860.

15. Medium folio entitled "Manuscript Genealogies," containing 213 Birthbriefs of the peers of Scotland and others, ending 1756.
32. A volume, which belonged to Joseph Stacey, Ross Herald (1663-1686), containing 184 Birthbriefs.
34. A thin volume containing 39 notices of the orders and ceremonies of funerals during the seventeenth century.
112. An unbound collection of Birthbriefs, 58 in number, 1684.
 - L. Quarto volume containing pen and ink sketches by Henry Fraser, Ross Herald 1687-1724, for Funeral Escutcheons, with 13 Birthbriefs at the end. Only these latter are indexed here.
 - P. The Lyon's Register of Processions, Letters of Precedency, Testificates and Forfaultures 1679, with 23 Funeral Escutcheons at the end.

The information given in these records in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries must be accepted with caution by the genealogist. The ancestral tables in many cases have been written down by the Herald Painters from persons whose knowledge was incomplete or inaccurate. The records contain many blanks in the names and dates, which have been supplied from other sources. This information is given in square brackets.
